FACULTY QUALITY MONITORING

Feedback System: The primary purpose of a student's feedback system is to evaluate the performance of teachers, identify areas for improvement, and enhance the overall quality of education.

After collecting feedback, the data is analyzed to identify trends and areas where teachers excel or need improvement & help in taking decisions related to faculty development, curriculum design, and overall program improvement.

COERU has a system of taking the feedback from students twice in a semester after the completion of first and second mid term exams.

AQMS: Academic Quality Management System run by COERU is a mechanism through which a regular check on the quality of teaching and learning is done. Its fundamental principle is continuous improvement. This system consists of class buddies giving feedback weekly for the classes held in that week. Providing opportunities for faculty development and training is an essential component of AQMS to ensure that educators are equipped with the necessary skills and knowledge to deliver high-quality education.

FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

FDP: On the basis of data obtained from the AQMS and feedback system, Faculty Development Programs are organized by the IQAC and by the different departments in collaboration with IQAC.

2. Five Days (FDP) on "Cyber Security" under the aegis of Uttarakhand Science Education & Research Centre (USERC).

IQAC also motivates the faculty members to enhance their skills at individual level. This includes getting certified courses from NPTEL, ATAL, Coursera etc. Faculty members are motivated by the reward provided to them for their good performances in these FDP.

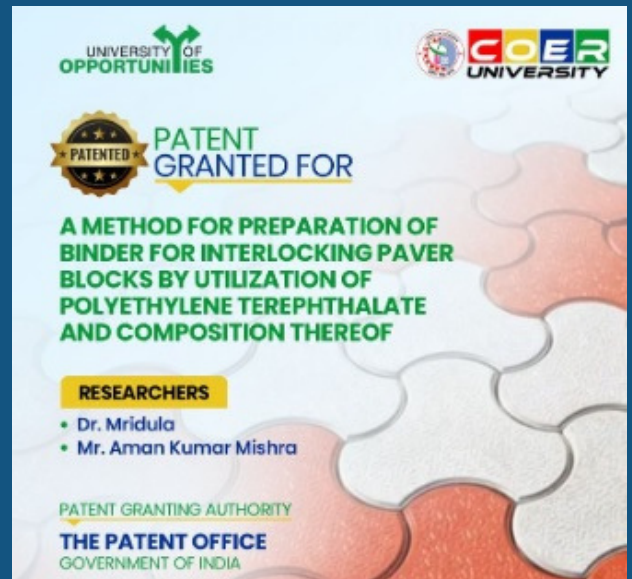

Thirty-four faculty members at COERU have been awarded certificates for successfully completing their chosen courses through NPTEL. Additionally, two faculty members achieved positions within the top 5% of performers in their respective courses.
